WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22, 1876. Although several of the appropriation bills which have been a bone of contention have been agreed to by the committees; progress upon the others is very slow and altogether discouraging. Five yet remain to be compromised, and very little advance toward an agreement has been made for several days. Four of these are in the hands of Conference Committees, and the other—the river and harbor bill—is still pending in the Senate. tion bills which have been a still pending in the Senate.

from an examination of the rebel archives in connection with Southern claims, is known, the delusive character of these pretenses of reform and retrenchment is thoroughly appreciated. It is safe to say that millions of dollars have been spent in this way during the past ten years; yet the trivial appropriation of a few thousand to continue the work has been stricken out by our Democratic reformers. The silver bill, recently passed, appears to be inoperative from the same indiscriminate cutting-down mania, no provision having ting-down mania, no provision having been made for coining the $50,000,000 in silver authorized by that act.

The altitude that Hendricks has assumed relative to the repeal of the Resumption act threatens to rend the Bourbon organization in twain. It is that two prominent Democratic officials from Indiana are in town, under Hendricks' orders, threatening that if the House majority does not vote to repeal the obnoxious act, he will withdraw from the ticket. PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection.
